

Elmer and Bugs goes to Video

What can we do? Our costumers are a bunch of looney, bright and adventurous people that can't say no...even in 14 inches of snow. Due to our creative energy flow and Costume-Con 21 having a costume video contest, "What's Opera Doc?" went from TICC theatrical performance of last year to a video shoot on the biggest snow storm of the season. Luckily we had rented the Botanical Center in down town Des Moines... all we had to do was get there. Take a look at the behind the scenes photos that Alan Guile took. So Lights, Camera, Action!
